

DE-CIX, the world's leading Internet Exchange operator, has chosen the NIX.CZ association as its regional partner

The German Internet Exchange operator DE-CIX has chosen the NIX.CZ association as a partner for cooperation in the Czech Republic, Slovakia and Austria. Their mutual goal is to provide the peering services to networks connected in these countries. For DE-CIX, NIX.CZ is a stable partner that has been covering the needs of networks in the Central European region continually and reliably. Companies connected to NIX.CZ can now connect with more than thousand different networks which exchange data at one of the world's largest Internet Exchanges, DE-CIX Frankfurt in Germany.

"We are delighted to have entered into a partnership with NIX.CZ, an association with which we enjoy trusted cooperation. We consider NIX.CZ to be an established and valued partner, thanks to which we can offer our customers greater geographical reach and availability. Enterprises are in search of simplified complete solutions that solve their network platform needs, looking for value, performance, security and geographical distribution," explains Ivo Ivanov, CEO of DE-CIX.

"Partnering with DE-CIX underlines the importance of our connecting nodes in Bratislava, Prague and Vienna. To become a regional partner of such an important company is a confirmation of the quality and stability of the services that our association provides. Customers of both exchanges will be able to use the services through the so-called 'one-stop-shop'," said Adam Golecky, the CEO of the NIX.CZ association.

We appreciate all the support you've shown us this year and we wish you all the best in 2023!

PEERING DAYS

THE PEERING DAYS INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE REGISTRATION IS NOW OPEN

Network operators, peering nodes operators as well as representatives of data center owners from all over the world can now register for the 10th annual Peering Days conference. As always, we are organizing this event together with our colleagues from Hungary (BIX.hu) and Austria (VIX.at). This time, the local host will be the Bulgarian exchange BIX.BG. The conference, which has seen hundreds of participants every year, will take place next year in March (March 28–30, 2023) in Sofia, Bulgaria.

"A decade — that makes it already a tradition. When we held the first Peering Days conference at Václav Havel Airport in Prague, few of us were able to imagine what this event would become in ten years. I dare say that together with my colleagues from Austria and Hungary, we have built a conference that is an important, sought-after gathering for networking professionals from around the world. Even though in this day and age virtual meetings have become commonplace, in my opinion, face-to-face meetings are still irreplaceable. I am convinced that my colleagues see it this way as well, and we will meet in Sofia in large numbers" said Adam Golecký, CEO of the NIX.CZ association.
